All:

I understand the network connectivity issues may not be resolved until tomorrow. Accordingly, ORS respectfully informs all parties and the Commission of its intent to file the Joint Proposed Order and Exhibits tomorrow morning.

Please don't hesitate to reply-all with any questions or concerns, and I apologize for any inconvenience.

Thank you,

Andrew

All:

ORS is currently experiencing network connectivity issues, which are impeding our ability to file the Joint Proposed Order. We will file the Joint Proposed Order as soon as we can; however, I wanted to keep all parties and the Commission apprised of the situation.

Thank you,

Andrew

Subject: Proposed Orders - Dominion Energy rate case

To the Parties:

We are told that Southern Reporting can have the last volume of the Transcript in the Dominion rate case ready by July 27. They would release volumes as they completed them, with the last volume to be released on July 27, 2021. I know it is not a lot of time, but what would you think of a Monday, August 2, 2021 close of business due date for briefs and/or proposed orders? That way the Commission could possibly vote on August 4, 2021, which would give the Commission 12 days until the Order due date. These dates don't give a lot of time to anybody, but they may be the best we can do. I am certainly open to other suggestions, however.

Thanks,

David Butler
